However, the final recommended structure shall be in the President's discretion.

Proposed changes in academic administrative structure may also originate in a college or school. In such cases, the process described below in sections 2 and 3 shall be followed.

2. RECOMMENDATIONS ORIGINATING IN A COLLEGE OR SCHOOL

Prior to the Dean(s) of a college(s) and/or school(s) submitting a recommendation for the creation of a new academic unit or change to an existing academic unit, the Dean(s) shall obtain input from affected faculty and other parties impacted by the new unit or proposed change to an existing unit regarding issues, concerns, structures and strategies. The process for obtaining input shall be determined by the Dean(s) and may vary according to the circumstances. In all cases, the Dean(s) should ensure that input is received from a broad representation of concerned groups. Input from the Faculty Senate and the Council of Deans should also be requested by the Dean(s).

3. APPROVAL

After receipt of the input described in section 2 above, the decision to recommend the proposed organizational change(s) will be made by the Dean(s) and transmitted through the Provost and Executive Vice President to the President for approval. When the recommended change is transmitted to the Provost and Executive Vice President, documentation of the input described in section 2 shall be provided. If the Provost and Executive Vice President recommends approval, the proposed organizational change(s) shall be forwarded to the President for final approval.

Upon approval by the President of the proposed organizational change, the Dean(s) will be responsible for initiating all internal administrative procedures to implement the change.
